1. What is geoengineering?

Solar geoengineering, or solar radiation modification (SRM), is a type of climate engineering in which sunlight (solar radiation) would be reflected back to outer space to limit human-caused climate change

Heavy metals? Graphene? or there is something else in the trace?

2. Who is Dane Wigington?

Dane Wigington is the executive producer for the ground breaking climate engineering documentary, "The Dimming". He has a background in solar energy and was a former employee of Bechtel Power Corporation. Dane was also a licensed contractor in California and Arizona.

3. Proofs of the existence of geoengineering

Site-map with geoengineering companies

This web-site contains references on many organizations which do geoengineering around the world.

This information can be checked by an official request in organizations.

4. The impact of geoengineering

I think that nobody can explain it better than the human which researches this problem about ten years - Dane Wigington.

I suggest to watch the short piece of his speech (less than 2 minutes).

5. Summary

Geoengineering is a controversial thing. Tests of air from the atmosphere show that this is not a conspiracy theory. This is the reality in which we live.

The human that have knowledge about this topic can smartly decide where he want to live with the minimal pollution from geoengineering.

Also the human who know about geoengineering can understand source of the most of their diseases. It's heavy metals for people which live in the geoengineering region (usually in large cities).

I don't call you to act like a revolution or a war against geoengineering corporations (perhaps you will lose). I just inform you to care about yourself.
